ABOUT NINA

Nina Nguyen Designs jewelry helps a woman define her own style with intricate, colorful, and artistic creations. Each piece is carefully designed by Nina and handcrafted by skilled artisans in Nina Nguyen Designs' very own Women's Co-Operative, Nina Nguyen Studio in Vietnam.

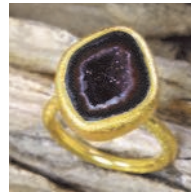

The women employed at our Co-Op are given professional training both for their work and also in life skills. With higher-than-average wages and full benefits for the employees as well as education for their children, we hold the same high standards for their work conditions as we do for the beauty and quality of our products.

The women of the Co-Op find their work rewarding and their lives enriched by their career choices. Empowered by these opportunities, they are making better lives for themselves and their families.

Nina's international travels and her innate artistic flair for fashion have helped her gain tremendous success. Within the past few years her line has appeared in many prestigious boutiques and jewelry showrooms as well as being featured in press articles around the globe.

"The jewelry I design is a reflection of my spirit. I create each piece to be unique, feminine and stylish. I envision my pieces empowering the wearer. It gives me much pleasure to contribute to the beauty of women. My hope is that every woman will enjoy wearing my jewelry as much as I enjoy designing each and every piece."

Nina Nguyen Designs is evolving to embrace earth-conscious materials. Inspired by organic gemstones, her current collection's focus is on the fossilized and mineralized stones that slowly develop through the planet's natural processes. Currently her favorite raw materials are geodes, stalactites and fossilized ammonites.

Geode is seen as useful for grounding and meditation, and are linked to feminine and healing energies. Geode stones are crystal lined formations that occur when water passes through a pocket of air trapped in rocks and leave mineral deposits behind.

Druzy is said to help aid in increasing energy and balancing the body. Created naturally over millions of years, Druzy stones are tiny quartz crystals that form when ground water carries minerals across an area of rock and rapidly cools. Our druzy are not dyed or processed.

Stalactite is associated with inner growth, power and discovery of the higher self. Stalactites are formed at the roof of a cave and begin with one drop of mineral-rich water and can grow anywhere from a quarter-inch to a full inch every century.

Ammonite is believed to bring stability and order in life, and eases spiritual growth and development. Ammonite lived in the seas between 400 - 65 million years ago, until they became extinct. Ammonites are fossilized at the bottom of the sea.

Chrysoprase is said to make conscious what was first unconscious. It is used in strengthening clarification and insight. Chrysoprase is a rare form of quartz that is known for its beautiful variation of green.

Turquoise is said to protect against negative energy and bring peace. Turquoise was among the first gems to ever been mined and has through history been coveted for its beautiful pastel shades of blue and green.
